Change in Price of Stud Book

During the past ten years the registration of pure-bred dogs has shown an amazing increase of nearly 48 per cent. This is a most encouraging rise, and it is direct evidence to The American Kennel Club that its efforts to promote the cause of good dogs has not been in vain. The governing body wants to see the ownership of pure-bred dogs become even more widespread in the United States. However, this huge increase imposes a certain, inescapable burden upon the A. K. C., for under its charter it must maintain a Stud Book; i.e., publish all registrations.

It is a matter of simple calculation that ten years ago the publishing of a Stud Book was a far easier matter. The fact that registrations have almost doubled is a big factor, and the convenient format of the volume is still another. Both have made the Stud Book much more expensive to publish. Under these circumstances The American Kennel Club is forced to increase the price of a subscription to the Stud Book from $2 to $4 per year.

All subscriptions to the Stud Book renewed prior to January 1, 1937, will be at the old rate of $2. This will apply even in cases where the expiration of the present subscription would normally fall within the period of the new $4 rate. In other words, if your present subscription expires in January or in any other month in 1937, it will be continued for another year if you pay $2 before the end of December, 1936. No change has been made in the price of a single issue of the Stud Book, this remaining at 50 cents.
